

Could you be a senior-level consultant with us?

Summary for prospective new partners

CAG Consultants is looking for people with senior-level experience who are interested in joining our flexible, committed, self-managing partnership in the UK. We enjoy an excellent reputation as a professional and forward-looking co-operative which has strong ethical values and has been fully virtual for more than 20 years.

This opportunity will suit self-starters who want to work from home within the UK and who are able to offer senior-level consultancy skills in engagement, evaluation, energy/carbon and/or economic development to our public, private and third sector clients.

This summary gives an introduction to CAG Consultants, and how you can apply to join us. If you're potentially interested, please contact CAG partner Denny Gray (07949 294680; dg@cagconsult.co.uk) or Dave Lawrence (07971 684378; dl@cagconsult.co.uk) to find out more about how we work and to request a full application pack.

Who we are

CAG Consultants was founded in 1983 and has a proud and distinguished track record of delivery for a wide range of clients across the public, private and third sectors. We are a leading provider of evidence-based research, advice and engagement for environmental, economic and social sustainability in the UK, with current clients including The National Lottery Fund, the Department of Business, Energy and Industrial Strategy, Defra, Electricity North West, Power to Change, the GLA, local authorities and Local Economic Partnerships.

We operate as a co-operative with a flat management structure, so all our partners have a say in how the business is run. Legally, we are structured as a Limited Liability Partnership (LLP). We currently have seven partners across the UK and a wide network of associates.

We are strongly values-driven and work to the highest standards of ethics and professionalism. Through the provision of rigorous research, constructive policy advice and expert facilitation, we seek to play our part in making the world a better place.

For further details of our work and our current partners, please see our website – www.cagconsultants.co.uk.

What we are looking for

We are seeking two additional partners to join the LLP, full or part-time. As a partner, you will:

- Offer senior-level expertise in a field relevant to CAG's work (e.g. engagement, evaluation, energy/climate change, economic development)
- Be self-motivated, capable of winning and delivering consultancy projects on your own, as well as with support from other CAG partners
- Enjoy the flexibility of working from home
- Be a team-worker capable of forming links with others in our virtual team, and
- Share commitment to CAG's values and participatory ethos.

CAG puts sustainability and equality of opportunity at the core of its work. We welcome and encourage applications from people of all backgrounds.

What we can offer you

Partners keep the earnings that they generate, net of tax and a contribution of 10-12.5% to the partnership's core costs. Full-time partners typically earn £50,000-£70,000 p.a. gross, depending on their field of work. We don't offer a salary but we do offer initial earnings support to ensure that new joiners receive a gross income of at least £40,000 (full-time equivalent) during their first year.

Working as a CAG partner offers you the freedom and flexibility of self-employment coupled with the benefits of being part of a supportive team. Our reputation and our systems will help you to access high profile and impactful work ranging from national policy to local community issues. Partners are actively encouraged to develop new market areas around their own interests and specialisms, as well as working with other CAG partners and associates on our core work areas.

How you can apply

Before you apply, we recommend that you contact one of our current partners to find out more about CAG's approach and discuss whether joining the partnership is right for you: Denny Gray (07979 294680; dg@cagconsult.co.uk) or Dave Lawrence (07971 684378; dl@cagconsult.co.uk).

Instructions on how to apply are available in the full application pack here. A large print version of the application pack is available on request.

Applications close on 13th June at 5.00pm.
